Dedication . . .

Perhaps the most important prerequisite for becoming a teacher is the desire to work with students. A genuine desire encompasses not only teaching them, but also understanding and learning from them. To Miss Sylvia Olney, students are her profession and hobby. She shows her interest in them by becoming involved in student life—in education, in government, in spirit. She is known to many seniors as a government teacher, to the whole student body as advisor to the Student Cooperative Association. In this capacity she advises the Board of Co-ordination, the Pep Committee, and all other branches of the SCA. As a government teacher, she displays leadership as head of the Social Studies Department. Miss Olney is also a faithful Mariner fan in the field of athletics and supports Ferguson teams by attending sports events. She is interested in the futures of students, for she teaches a vocational guidance course, and she enjoys lasting relationships with students whom she has taught or worked with.

Miss Olney is interested in the whole student, in every phase of student life. To this interest she contributes her all. In appreciation, the students of Ferguson High School dedicate the 1967 MARINER to a dedicated teacher, advisor, and friend—Miss Sylvia Olney.

Miss Sylvia Olney

A dedicated teacher, Miss Olney spent many hours doing her "homework" — grading papers and preparing lessons.

As advisor to the SCA, Miss Olney devoted much of her time to SCA officers.

Miss Olney participates in school spirit by intently following the action of the Mariner basketball team.

FOREWORD

Swing into ACTION!

Get into gear!

'67 is the year!

. . . the year for Ferguson to be proud of a new gym, to cheer its teams to victory with its own "Mariner Fight Song" . . . the year for rousing spirit at pep assemblies and games, for outstanding academic achievements . . . the year for an outstanding Ferguson High School!

Ferguson has joined the motion of today's youth and is meeting the demands of the future by ACTION. The voices of Mariners are heard among the host of others . . . together the voices of youth in ACTION. And the action of Ferguson throbs to each success, each failure, each effort of its students.

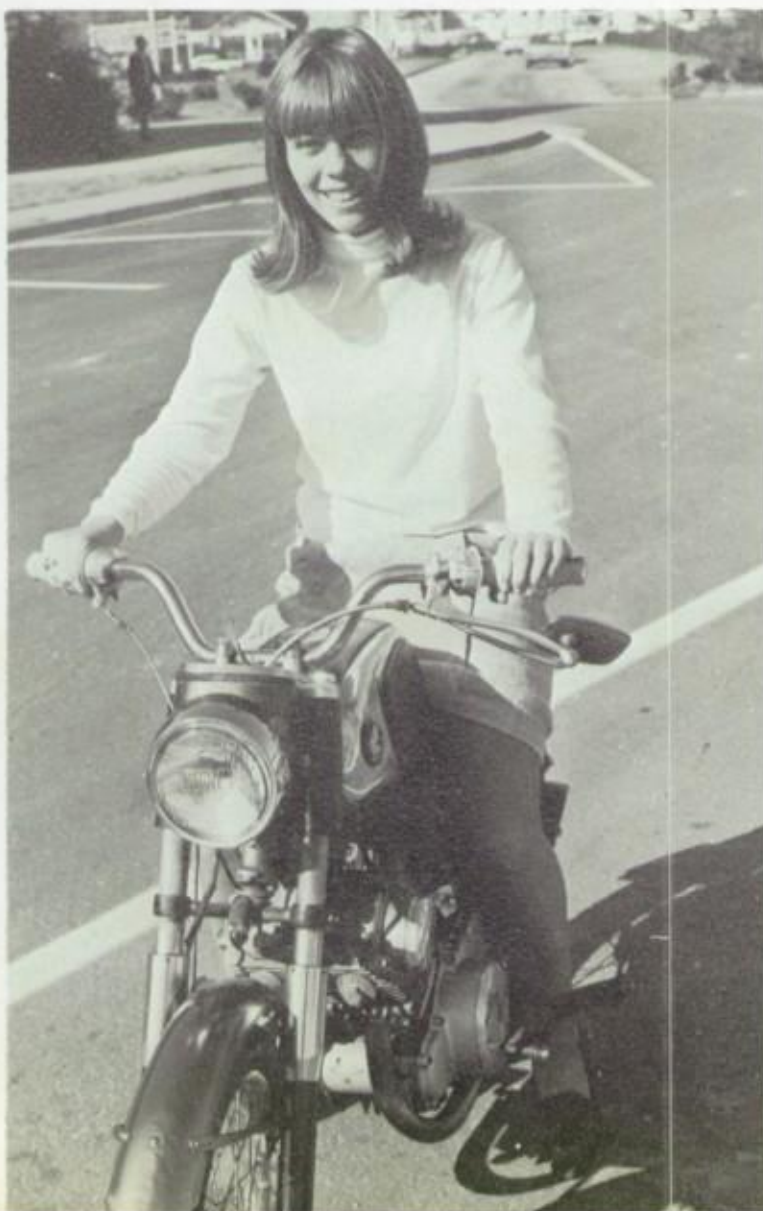

Here are its actions . . . normal actions, special actions, old actions, new actions . . . but all part of the swinging action of the swinging set . . . Ferguson High School '67.

Creating the normal activity of a bustling high school is the confusion of students pouring out of classes after the bell, to rush to another class.

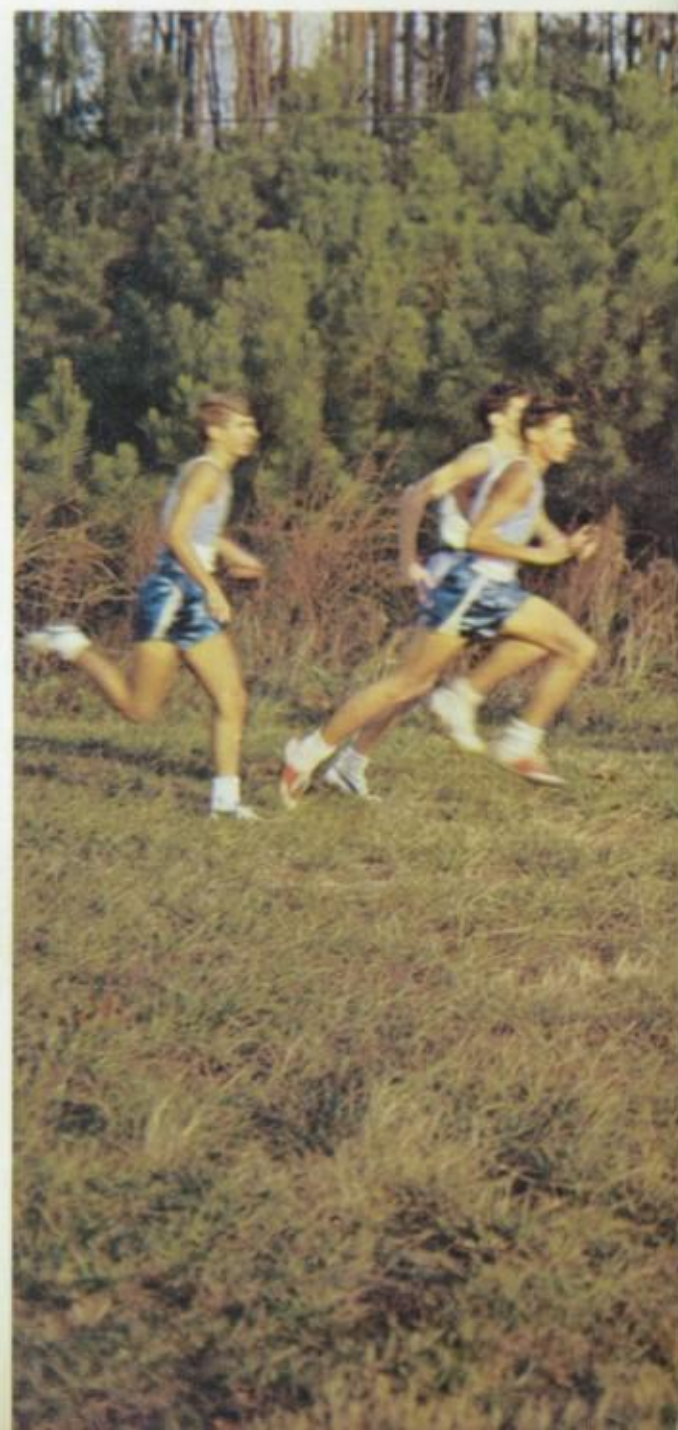

The German Club sang Christmas carols in foreign languages in the Christmas assembly. Also participating by singing were the French and Spanish clubs.

Pattie Berkey excitedly cheers the basketball players as they add two more points to the score.

Senior attendant Linda Ball was chosen 1966 Homecoming Queen by the football players.

Shooting for another basket is Lee Laughlin while Steve Hayes watches on, and the Falcons try to block the shot.

The desire for action prevailed.

A pervading spirit of movement, and energy in varying amounts, but ever present at Ferguson High School — a team straining, pushing, always moving toward that goal of victory . . . animated faces, laughing, cheering, crying . . . a huge blur of figures clamoring onto buses, scurrying to classes, climbing from the bleachers . . . spirited cheerleaders jumping, clapping, yelling . . . the sound of a pair of stacked heels as they seem to fly through a long hall just before a tardy bell rings . . . the happy shouts, kisses, and tears backstage after a play is successfully produced . . . active minds running one step ahead of the words being written or spoken in the classroom . . . the glare of stadium lights reflected by shining instruments as blue uniformed band members steadily march onto the field . . . the deafening roar of 1500 voices in the new gym — Ferguson High School, a school that is constantly on the go and very much alive.

Academics

Principals worked together to

The signing of bills, contracts, and appointments was all part of the job Mrs. Passage undertook as the principal of Ferguson.

Mrs. Passage always smiled warmly at passing students while patrolling the halls during the five minute break between classes.

During the year 1966-67, Mrs. Passage has successfully met the demands of a prospering high school. Through her vigorous efforts to remain in close contact with the students, Mrs. Passage has stimulated the growth of Ferguson in its search for knowledge, its participation in sports, and its challenge for lasting friendships. Our principal offered leadership and support to every student. Although Mrs. Passage strove to build a monument which would remain in our memories, she always had time to offer helping advice to a student, to congratulate a victorious team, or to honor an academically deserving student. Whether she attended a dance as chaperone or a play as one of the audience, Mrs. Passage displayed her unending devotion to Ferguson High School as the tool for a student's future success.

insure a varied curriculum and organization.

To aid Mrs. Passage in controlling the organization, classes, and activities throughout Ferguson were Mr. Underwood and Mr. Field. The calendar of events, including dances, concerts, and recreation nights scheduled for the year was organized by the assistant principals.

The assistance that Mr. Underwood and Mr. Field gave to Mrs. Passage enabled them to work diligently together to provide a curriculum which met the needs of each student at Ferguson High School—a curriculum which would provide a challenge to students and teachers, for not only their work at school, but also their ambitions and desires for future success and outside activities. This was the aim and goal of the staff of principal and assistant principals at Ferguson.

Guidance department assisted students.

Mrs. Gaw, Dean of Girls, checks student cards, which is part of her job as Director of Guidance.

The guidance department for Ferguson High School is charged with the responsibility of advising and assisting all students at school. The department is headed by Mrs. Gaw, who is also Dean of Girls. She is aided in her work by Mrs. Pepper, Mrs. Carter, Mr. Begor, Mrs. Reynolds, and Mrs. Adams.

Some of the jobs delegated to the counselors are: helping college-bound students select a college, setting up students' class schedules, registering students for various tests, and advising students on their individual problems. The counselors have a large number of catalogs, pamphlets and books to aid the students.

If a guidance department is effective, it will be the most visited and used office in the entire school. Such is the case at Ferguson High School, where the students feel that they may drop in anytime.

As senior counselor, Mrs. Pepper was often called upon for advice.

Mrs. Reynolds occupies her time working for her eighth graders.

The visiting teacher, Mrs. Adams, checks on one of her pupils.

The problems and progress of the juniors were Mrs. Carter's responsibility.

Mr. Begor had to tackle all guidance problems for the freshmen.

The school nurse Mrs. Myers takes Mike Porter's temperature in the clinic.

Mr. Harmon, activities director, sells tickets to the athletic events.

Mr. Leonard, serving as transportation officer, keeps track of the buses.

Staff members performed duties.

Mrs. Martha Oder types a senior's transcript, while Mrs. Juanita Granger looks for a school record.

Performing some of the school's many typing, bookkeeping, and clerical jobs are Mrs. Margaret Crate and Mrs. Florence Stutz.

Pam Alley and Cathy Lawrence, seniors in one of Mrs. Smith's English classes, prepare a bulletin board depicting three witches in Act I of Shakespeare's MacBETH.

Seeking to instill in their students an appreciation of great literature and to teach them the skills necessary for speaking, reading, and writing effectively, English teachers used several new devices this year. Among these were the Science Research Associates Contemporary Composition program used with the overhead projector, the Humanities Series films, and various film strips and records related to literary studies.

The students themselves also tried new projects in their classes. A senior class made a tape on the literary, political, and musical background of a century of English history, while eighth graders staged one act plays written by classmates. Freshmen made maps and travel folders on the journeys of Odysseus, a sophomore class produced THE KING AND I, and juniors made a study of love and hate in THE HUMAN COMEDY. Drama students produced one act plays, while speech students studied phonetics.

Mr. Pirkle helps drama students Amy Markowitz, Claude Puryear, Patty Henry, and Dana Martin rehearse a scene from a one act play.

Physical education activities for boys are designed to develop physical fitness and to provide enjoyment of various sports. Ferguson's physical education program includes the team sports of football, basketball, and baseball, plus the individual sports of track, wrestling, and tennis.

The new Mariner gym, opened in December, proved to be a valuable asset to the physical education department. It provided Ferguson boys not only with much needed locker space, but also with the room needed to successfully teach, train for, and play various sports.

In all class and competitive games held at Ferguson High School this year, the high ideal of good sportsmanship and ethical conduct was upheld in the true Mariner spirit.

U. S. history is a required course for all eighth graders, while either world history or geography must be taken during the freshman and sophomore years. Juniors are required to take U. S. history, two classes this year being involved in a specialized study connected with Colonial Williamsburg. For seniors, U. S. government is required with a special unit on Communism. Sociology, involving the study of man and society, is also offered to those who are interested.

New equipment in the history department this year included an overhead projector and an opaque projector. Additional equipment was also under order for next year.

During her free period, Mrs. Davis makes use of the math office to correct test papers and to plan lessons for the coming week.

Studying tax forms, learning how to read, make, and use graphs, making geometry projects involving everything from sewing skills to modeling in wood and clay, and learning to calculate in bases other than ten – these were some of the many projects in which Ferguson math students participated this year.

Besides working on these projects, many interested students also took part in activities of the school's math club and entered the national math contest which is jointly sponsored by the American Mathematical Society, the American Society of Actuaries, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

In addition to basic math courses such as algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, advanced courses in math analysis, consumer math, and remedial math are offered.

Ferguson's mathematics department strives to provide the education needed for advanced work in mathematics in college. This knowledge, needed to compete in the working world today, helps build the cultural background of a well educated adult.

An atomic energy demonstration and lecture by an Oak Ridge, Tennessee scientist, a visit by a scientist from the Virginia Junior Academy of Science, and a space mobile from N.A.S.A. — these were some of the programs in which Ferguson's science department was involved this year.

Besides using these teaching aids provided by the community, science teachers also used overhead projectors, the bioscope, and team teaching to help in instructing their classes. The newest addition to the science curriculum was an accelerated chemistry and genetics course for seniors.

The general objective of the Latin department is to help the students develop a deeper, clearer understanding of the fundamentals of language, and to increase intellectual interests and powers. Typing, taking shorthand, keeping books and records, and learning the principles of business law — these are some of the studies in which students who are enrolled in business courses are engaged. Business students gain skill in using numerous machines, such as typewriters, duplicating machines, and sound-scribers.

The business department has two purposes: to teach the business skills which develop occupational intelligence and to educate students to become better members of the economic community. Ferguson's business courses are not only for the vocational student, but are also beneficial to the college-bound student. Courses are now offered in business law, general business, typing, clerical office practice, record keeping, bookkeeping, notehand, personal typing, and shorthand.

V.O.T., D.E. offer on-the- job training.

Students in Mr. Harvey's fourth period V.O.T. class learn to use various machines, such as calculating machines.

Two cooperative work-training programs were offered to Ferguson students this year. The first of these was Distributive Education, which gives students practical experience in marketing, salesmanship, merchandising, and advertising. Students enrolled in D.E. classes take part in area and national contests. The D.E. department strives to build social consciousness, civic awareness, vocational understanding, and leadership development in its students.

Vocational Office Training offers on-the-job training in office occupations. Courses in V.O.T. cover such areas of business education as seeking and holding a job, business filing, and receptionist duties. Students also receive instruction in the use of many business machines, such as adding and calculating machines, transcribing machines, and duplicating machines.

Archery, modern dance, first aid, and drivers' education are some of the highlights of the physical education program at Ferguson. New equipment, including parallel bars and an introductory golf unit, used for the first time this year, aided teachers in their quest to add years to life.

The general purpose of the girls physical education department is to provide vigorous daily exercise for strength, flexibility, and agility; to develop the need of and the desire for physically fit bodies; and to make each girl aware of good safety habits in the gym, at home, and on the road.

Special assemblies included a gym show presented in March in connection with the newly built gym.

National Music Week, the first week

The general purpose of the music department is to provide each student with an opportunity to develop his skill in music to a degree of proficiency which will enable him to use that skill in life. The three choruses each provide a chance for these talented students to excel in their field.

Other music courses include general music, which is based on a humanities-oriented approach, and music theory, which provides an excellent background in the theory and fundamentals of music.

Further rounding out the music department are the instrumental music courses offered to students. In addition to individual skills, music theory and history are stressed. New band instruments this year included chimes, a string bass, and a tenor sax.

Art classes tried new techniques.

Pam Roy begins painting a papier-mache figure which she made in art class. Art students experimented with various materials.

Working with new methods and techniques in pottery and experimenting with new synthetic materials and new methods of using old materials were only some of the projects in which Ferguson art students participated this year. Interested students also took part in an art exhibit at the school board office and participated in the spring exhibit and contest at York High School. The members of the art club, an organization sponsored by the art department to further interest in art, traveled to many exhibits in the city.

Both of Ferguson's art teachers are working artists who displayed their work in exhibits around the peninsula. Through their instruction, these teachers strived to create an interest and knowledge of art that students might carry with them into everyday situations.

Library's facilities were expanded.

As part of their training, library assistants must learn chores needed for operating the library. Here, Linda Jones shelves books.

Providing books, magazines, pamphlets, and audio-visual materials for both students and teachers, the Ferguson library's facilities are expanding. New overhead projectors, filmstrip viewers, filmstrips, and musical and dramatic records have been added to the library's growing collection of materials.

Much of the work in the library is done by Ferguson's student library assistants. These students receive a credit for their library science course which is part instruction and part laboratory. With a manual to study, student assistants learn the Dewey Decimal Classification System, the use of the card catalog and Reader's Guides, and the value of important reference books, as well as the clerical chores involved in maintaining the library. Two of these jobs are working at the circulation desk and shelving books.

Under the direction of Miss Helen Haverty, the Ferguson library strives to provide good reading and wider reading opportunities for the student body and teachers.

Industrial art skills were taught.

In wood shop, advanced students were required to make a project on the wood lathe this year, while drafting students made a complete set of plans in two-point perspective for a house. Students in metal shop were taught how to cut metal and how to use the shearing machine.

These three courses, wood shop, metal shop, and drafting are the industrial arts courses now taught at Ferguson. They offer students orientation to an industrial environment, occupational information, and the opportunity to develop consumer knowledge and industrial skills. Besides this, the industrial arts courses provide students with a variety of hobby pursuits to meet their own particular interests and needs.

The advanced industrial art student gains the opportunity to study the areas of his own particular interest. For example, he may work on group assembly line projects in wood and metal, architectural drawing, electrical drawing, or advanced mechanical drawing.

During drafting class, Scott Tulley supervises as Wayne Soloman skillfully cuts a piece of wood for one of the many projects completed during a year in this course.

Homemaking students entered contests.

Girls enrolled in home economics used new "Touch and Sew" sewing machines this year. They also made draperies and refinished furniture. The study of foods, the role of the homemaker, and family living were other aspects in which students were engaged.

Home economics students also participated in several contests, including the "Made of Wood" contest, the "Culinary Arts Festival," the Silversmith contest, and the Betty Crocker "Search for Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest.

To increase their ability to teach sewing, both Miss Barrow and Mrs. Orr attended special workshops on the Bishop method of clothing construction.

Encouraging girls to take a more active role in homemaking is the purpose of the home economics courses now offered at Ferguson.

Brenda Sykes, Janis Wright, Joanne Powell, and Rose Marie Granade practice sewing skills in Miss Barrow's sixth period class.

Mrs. White promoted nourishing meals.

Few Mariners realized how much work was involved in preparing a meal each day. To prepare a meal of orange juice, roast turkey, dressing, gravy, potatoes, string beans, hot rolls, and cake, the staff began several days in advance. It took three days to thaw the dozen 20-pound turkeys; they were baked the day before serving. On the day of the meal, 28 gallons of creamed potatoes, 2200 rolls, and ten large sheet cakes were prepared.

The 1966-67 school year marked the twentieth anniversary of the school lunch program in Newport News. This was commemorated at Ferguson with the celebration of each Mariner's birthday on one day. A special birthday lunch was prepared and the faculty and Mrs. Passage were presented cakes.

Juniors Buz Wallin, Susan Redding, and Jimmy Brown use their mid-day break for a mealtime conversation. Lunch periods provided Ferguson students a time for studying, talking, relaxing, as well as eating lunch.

Hungry Mariners wait in line for their lunches. The slight price increase charged for meals, milk, and ice cream this year did not keep Ferguson students from buying the delicious lunches served each day.

Through hard work and infinite patience Ferguson's maintenance staff, headed by Mr. Brown, was continually able to maintain the Mariner buildings in excellent condition. Contributing to this successful accomplishment was their perseverance and constant response to the needs of Ferguson and its students. Even through the most taxing or unpleasant tasks, the staff remained cheerful and pleasant at all times. Ferguson offers a hearty Mariner thanks to our maintenance crew for a job well done.

Rosetta Good, as part of her job of keeping Ferguson a spotless school, cleans a sink. Duties such as this and many others were performed daily by the members of the maintenance staff.

Miss Linda Kay Ball

Ferguson's 1966 homecoming festivities were held November 4th and 5th this year. Highlight of the half-time ceremonies was the crowning of Miss Linda Kay Ball as our 1966 Homecoming Queen. The following night the homecoming dance was held in honor of the queen and her court, with music being provided by the Nitelighers.

After being crowned Homecoming Queen, Linda Ball tearfully accepts congratulations from Mrs. Passage.

Queen Linda Ball, escorted by Tommy Caldrony, stepped out of the car before entering the homecoming dance the following night.

Emily Webb, played by Pat Humme, and Mrs. Webb, played by Linda Harris, enjoy a summer evening in Grover's Corners.

Narrator of the play Donald Draper describes the town of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, to the audience.

Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs, played by Bill Gill and Peggy Henry, discuss their son George and neighbor Emily.

Thornton Wilder's OUR TOWN was chosen as Ferguson's fall play. Produced and directed by Mr. James Pirkle, OUR TOWN starred Donald Draper as the narrator, Pat Humme as Emily Webb, and Neal Rosenbaum as George Gibbs. Set in the little town of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, around the turn of the century, OUR TOWN is a typical story of two families, but it involves a very deep emotional meaning. The three main ideas expressed in OUR TOWN are of living, loving, and dying.

The girls competing for the Miss Mariner title were judged on talent, poise, appearance, and personality. They presented their talent on Thursday night for judging and afterwards met the judges at an informal reception. On Friday night, ten semi-finalists were chosen, who gave their talent for the enjoyment of the audience. Then, five finalists were judged on questions which they had to answer, and from these finalists, the runners-up and Miss Mariner were chosen.

Mr. George J. McIntosh was the principal speaker at the dedication of the new gym on December 16.

After many long months of waiting, we finally saw the completion of our new gymnasium in December. Dedication ceremonies were held on December 16, with the entire student body assembled for the first time in the new gym. Now, not only was it possible for us to have home games in our own gym, but we were also able to have many more assemblies and pep rallies to boost school spirit. Also, the space was gained which was greatly needed for physical education classes. Adding greatly to the dedication ceremonies were the band and color guard.

"Give me an F . . .", yell Ferguson's varsity cheerleaders at a pep assembly in the new gym. That night the first game was held in the gym.

On April 7th and 8th, the physical education department presented "Gymboree", its first gym show. Several hundred students participated in the show, and the numbers included various types of dancing, marching routines, jump rope routines, free exercises, tumbling, vaulting, and double stunts with the wrestling and gymnastics teams. The main purpose of the show was to let the people in the area see exactly what goes on and is taught in the gym classes. Head of the show was Mrs. Ruth Sanders, and the Master of Ceremonies was Mr. James Pirkle.

rewarded for their achievements.

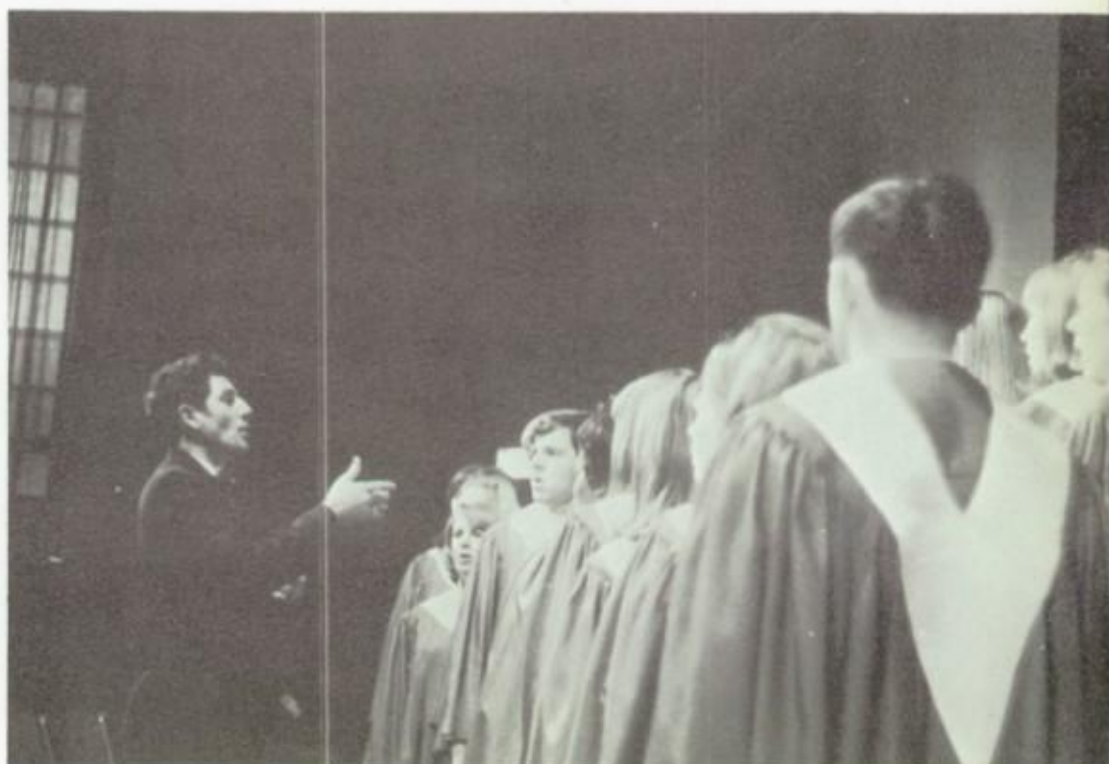

Chosen as members of the All-Virginia Chorus were Louis Graham, Katherine Huckins, Butch Ryder, Jane Moneyhun, and Ronnie Ayres.

As in past years, outstanding musicians at Ferguson were recognized by the school. There were several musicians upon whom the school placed honor. The Arion Award for the most outstanding senior in the A Cappella choir was presented to Jane Moneyhun. For exceptional work in the Mariner Band, the Arion Award went to Jack Gaughan, who is also a senior. Also in the band, the John Phillip Sousa Award was presented to Sally Haughton, an outstanding junior musician.

These awards are all based on the student's all-around musical ability and talent, and on how well he has contributed to the group to which he belongs.

Honor was brought to Ferguson when five of its students were selected as members of the All-Virginia Chorus. This well-deserved honor went to Jane Moneyhun, soprano; Katherine Huckins, alto; Louis Graham, bass; and Butch Ryder and Ronnie Ayres, tenors.

The STUDENT CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION was the most powerful organization at Ferguson. With every student as a member, it was governed by seven officers and a congress composed of a representative from each homeroom, committee chairmen, class officers, and Board of Co-ordination representatives.

In promoting student participation and training in school government, the SCA sponsored many projects which included Stunt Night, Homecoming, a Christmas Toy Drive, and a "Know Your SCA Week".

The many clubs of Ferguson came under the supervision of the BOC. The Board of Co-ordination was established by the SCA to promote interest, enthusiasm and cooperation among clubs. It also provided a means by which the administration could communicate with the clubs and get student opinion. In the way the student body established a general program of activities.

The members of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY promote scholarship and leadership and encourage the growth of character and a desire to serve Ferguson High School. Students who possess these qualities are inducted into the society in two assemblies during the year. Money for a scholarship for one of the society's outstanding members was raised by the NHS Bookstore in which paperback books in demand by students were sold by NHS members. The society was honored by Denbigh High School to initiate the first National Honor Society at that school on April 14. Honored by the Bank of Warwick were Bill New, Chip Griffiths, Bob Scher, Gary Nachman, Mike Hentges, Peggy Henry, Betty Jaeger, Linda Knemeyer, Mary Beth Hatten, and Susan Smith as the top ten seniors.

The QUILL and SCROLL inducted new members in an informal ceremony held in the library on April 13. Along with the new members, four seniors were awarded certificates of outstanding and distinctive service in the field of journalism. These seniors were Gail Eppes, Susan Tilley, Leslie Tiller, and Jim Hewin.

Two Honor Weeks were sponsored by the HONOR COUNCIL. The purpose of the council is to impress upon the students the significance of an honor code.

Latin Club members enjoy a festive Roman dinner at their annual Roman Banquet held on March 30.

The French, Latin, and German Clubs, Ferguson's three language clubs, have a common goal--to promote interest in the culture and language of foreign countries and thus to further understanding of the world.

With approximately fifteen members, the GERMAN CLUB sponsored several projects. Among these activities was a Liederfest (hootenanny) with Warwick High School and Hampton Roads Academy. Members also saw films of Germany and listened to several speakers, including a student from West Berlin and Dr. Lassen from Norway.

The LATIN CLUB, which had about thirty members, met monthly. One of its main activities is the Roman Banquet in the spring. Still another project is the Saturnalia program at Christmas time.

Besides having speakers talk to their club about France, FRENCH CLUB members also made a trip to Washington, D. C., where they visited the National Gallery of Art and the Russian Embassy. Members also formed study groups on various aspects of French life, such as teen life, the arts, and modern French politics.

In order to promote international understanding, the AFS offers scholarships for foreign students to come to the United States and for American students to go abroad. Some of its money making projects this year were a Christmas Assembly with the language department, a Christmas card sale, a bond drive, a pen sale, and a dance.

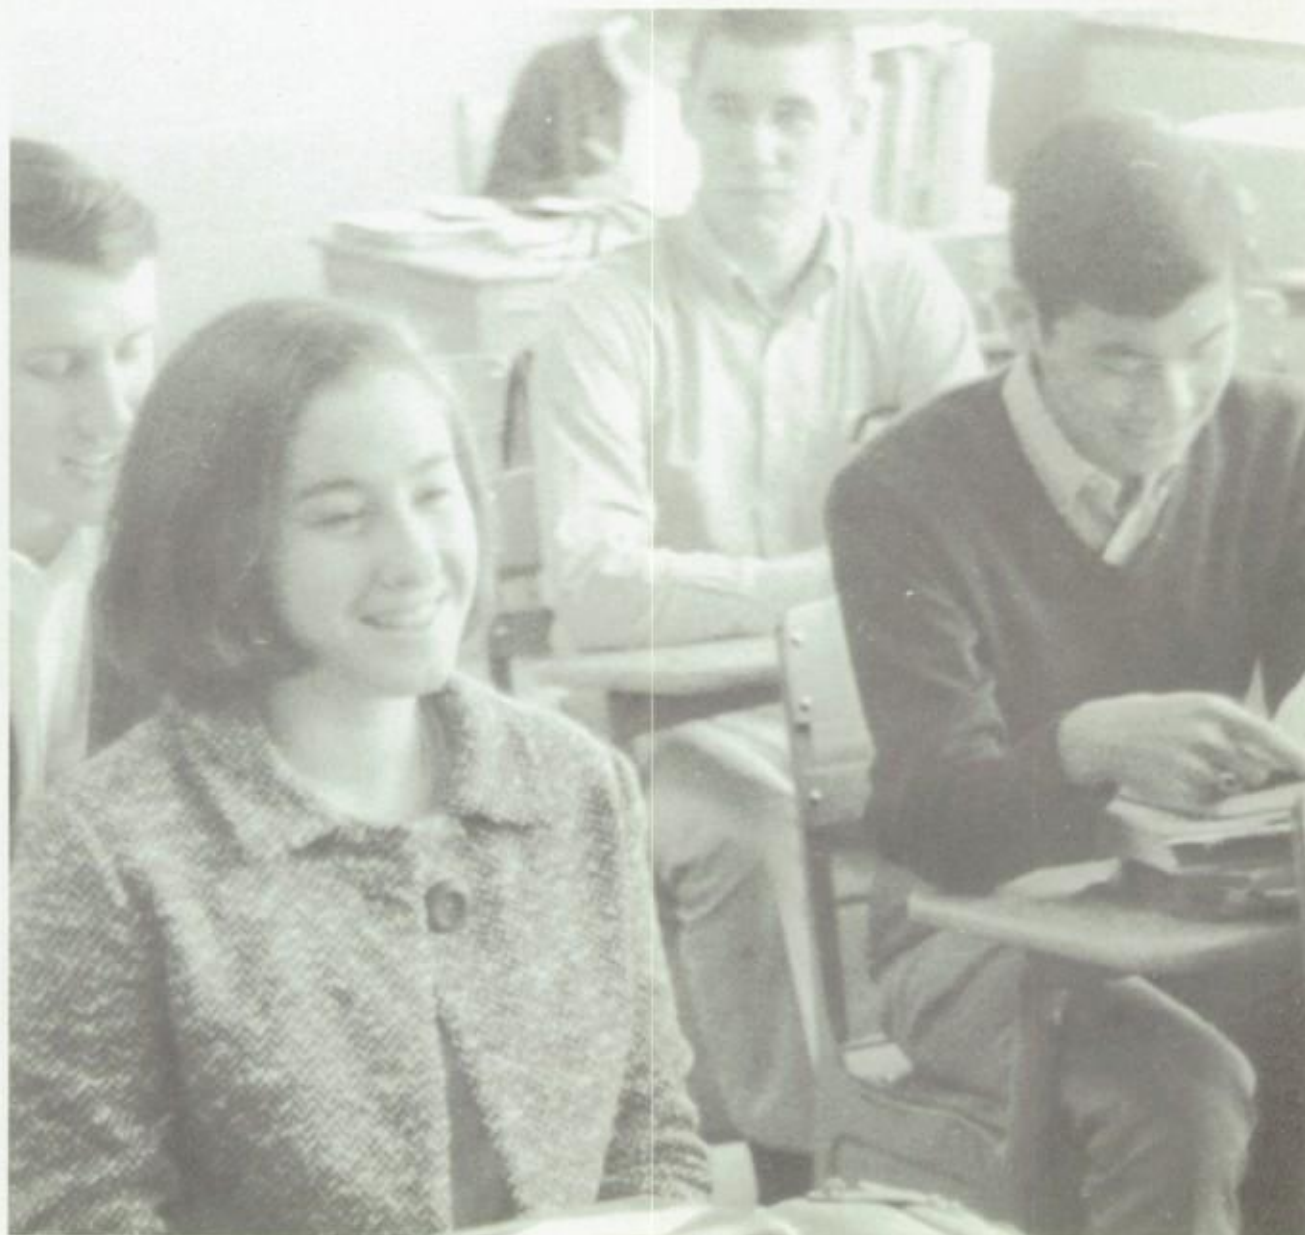

Ferguson's AFS was very fortunate this year to be able to handle two foreign exchange students. These students were Ayeska Oliveira from Brazil and Somsak Phudpong from Thailand. Ayeska made her home with Martha Kane, while Sak stayed with Jack Gaughan. Among her main interests, Ayeska listed psychology, foreign languages, and playing the guitar. Sak concentrated his efforts on boxing and singing.

During the summer, Ferguson had the opportunity to send one of its students abroad. Chip Griffiths was chosen and was sent to Finland by the Americans Abroad Program.

Mr. Field, Steve Crate, John Rouse, Gary Nachman, Harvey Credle, Steve Myers, and Bill Gill prepare to leave for the Key Club Convention.

The KEY CLUB of Ferguson High School is an active service organization. Some of its many projects to improve the community and the school were selling Ferguson decals and basketball programs to boost school spirit, supporting organizations through buying ads and putting up posters, cleaning the school lawns and parking lots, sponsoring car washes, assisting in setting up for graduation, presenting a music appreciation night for the student body, and supporting the Kiwanis programs in the area.

KEYETTES is one of the leading service organizations of Ferguson High School. Along with the Key Club, it also has the purpose of service to the school and community, while promoting honor and leadership among the members. Among the projects for the year were participating in Stunt Night, sponsoring a drive to collect money for migrant workers, and collecting for various drives in the community.

The VARSITY CLUB, a service organization of Ferguson High School, is composed of athletes who have won their letter in one or more sports. The boys participated in money making projects with the AFS and sold basketball programs. In service to the school, they painted the football sled and cleaned up the tennis courts.

President George Barber publicizes the Hi-Y Clean-up Campaign held the first week of February. Posters were placed in the halls.

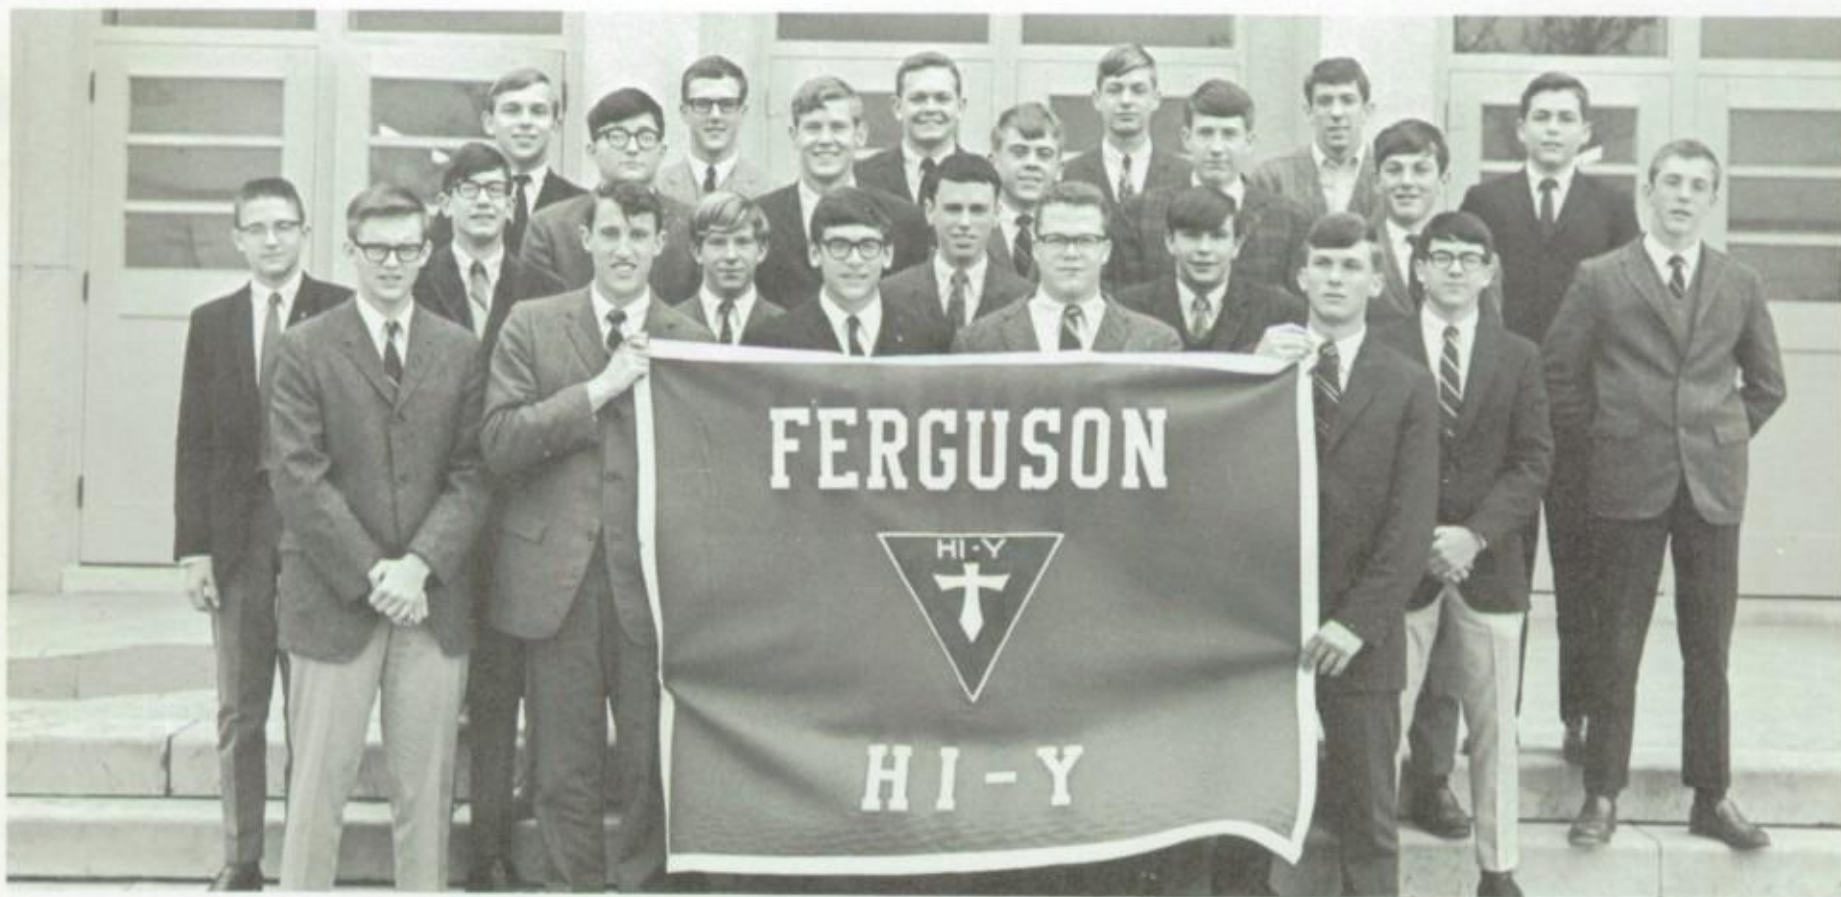

The Hi-Y is a YMCA club for high school boys. In keeping with their goals of clean living, clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean speech, the Hi-Y sponsored a "Clean-Up Week". During this time posters were put up around the school and an overall effort was extended by the members to keep Ferguson clean.

The SENIOR TRI HI-Y, a girls' Hi-Y, has been established at Ferguson and serves the school and community by participating in projects each month. Some of these activities included a joint dance with the Hi-Y, selling confetti at football games, the "Mr. Valentine Contest", and attending YMCA conferences.

The JUNIOR TRI HI-Y serves much the same purpose as the Senior Tri Hi-Y. This club is open to eighth, ninth, and tenth grade girls.

In order to keep in harmony, these groups all follow the National Hi-Y Purpose, which is "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character." Some of their service projects to the school and community included visiting the Sarah Hudgens Center for the Retarded, keeping the trophy case in order, selling programs at a basketball game, and sending four delegates to the Junior Tri Hi-Y Convention.

Ferguson's A CAPPELLA CHOIR is an active singing group. Its members, having sung before either in the Girls' Chorus or Boys' Chorus, are the best singers in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. They are chosen through try-outs held in the spring by Mr. Auby. The choir performs in many school concerts and musical assemblies. A Cappella also carries on activities out of school, such as singing for church groups, women's clubs, and other organizations. For the first time this year, A Cappella was given the unusual experience of performing at a fashion show and on television.

The A Cappella Choir officers and representatives form the A Cappella Choir council. The council works with Mr. Auby in planning activities and uniting the choir.

The MUSIC SOCIETY, although composed mainly of chorus and band members, is opened to any interested student. Meeting once a month, the members listen to and discuss music of all kinds. Peninsula singers and those talented in music were invited to provide entertainment for various meetings. The Music Society also sponsored a Student Participation Day on which many members performed.

The GIRLS' CHORUS is a combination of girls who are interested and talented in music and singing. It is composed mainly of girls in the ninth through the eleventh grades. The Girls' Chorus has no requirements except for an appreciation and enjoyment of music. The chorus, performing in school concerts and assemblies, gives its members singing experience and prepares them for A Cappella. Girls' Chorus participated in the Christmas, Spring, and other school concerts. Mr. Auby is the director.

The MADRIGAL SINGERS are a group of the most talented singers from the A Cappella Choir. Madrigal Choir offers the interested student more than is required in the regular music classes. Madrigal Choir specializes in the twelfth through the sixteenth century music. Madrigal singers take part in many extra-curricular activities.

The BOYS' CHORUS is made up entirely of boys in the ninth through twelfth grades. Many of these boys go on into A Cappella Choir after a semester or year of Boys' Chorus. The Boys' Chorus performs in many school concerts and assemblies.

Among Ferguson's many interest groups are the Chess Club, the Radio Club, the Art Club, and the Honorary Thespian Society.

With approximately twenty members, the CHESS CLUB provides an opportunity for students to learn or to improve their chess game. Besides playing against each other, Chess Club members participate in inter-school matches and tournaments.

RADIO CLUB members set up an amateur radio station, and they hold code and radio theory classes. This group tries to learn more about radio and to further students' interests in radio.

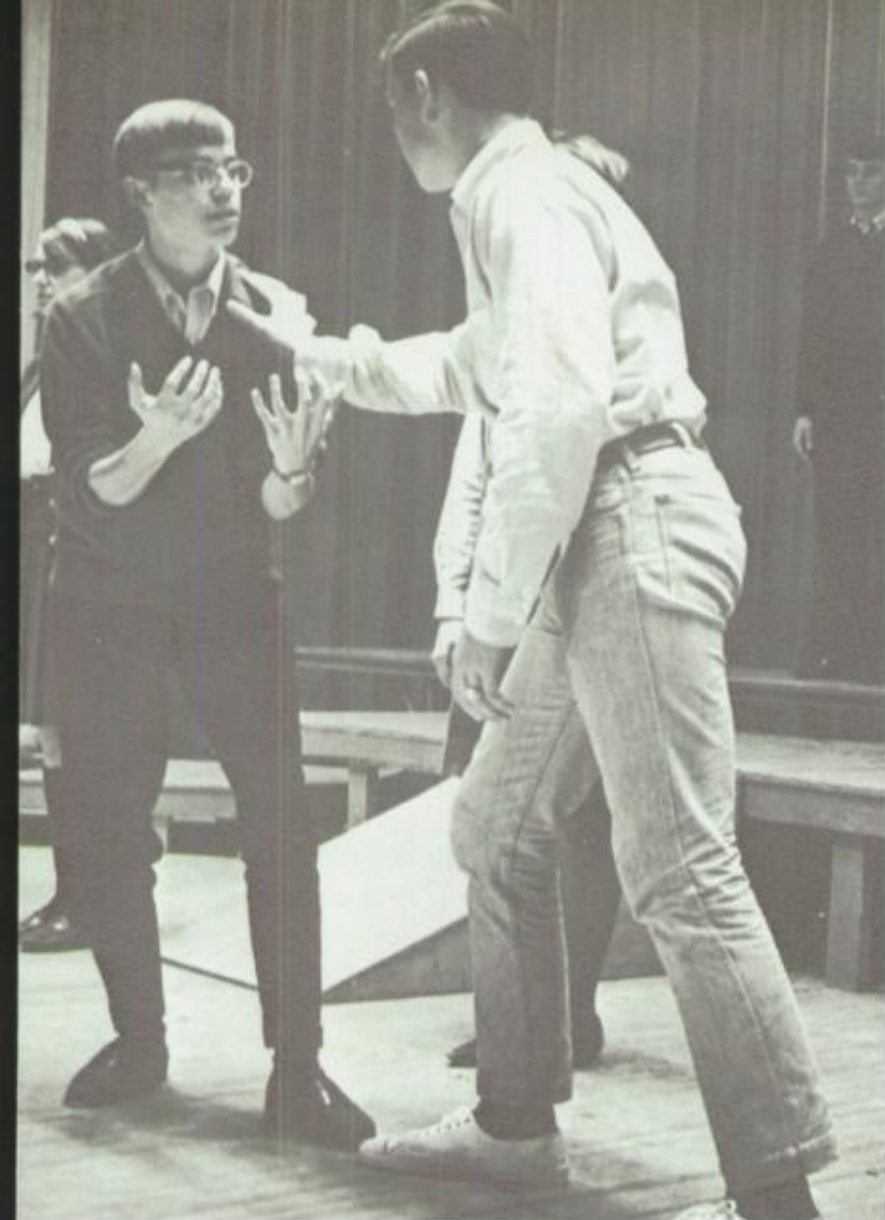

Traveling to many exhibits in the city, ART CLUB members have a chance to further their study of art and to better appreciate art.

The members of THESPIAN TROUPE 1629 were active participants in dramatic productions this year. Besides providing lighting, sound, and other backstage work for school assemblies and programs, troupe members took part in the productions of OUR TOWN and the three one-act plays, "Genesis," "Doctor in Spite of Himself," and "Not Enough Rope." The Thespians also sponsored a children's theater production.

The HISTORY CLUB this year met every other Wednesday throughout the year. Speakers were asked to address the club and a field trip to Washington, D.C. was planned.

The MATH CLUB was formed to create a deeper appreciation of mathematics for its members by outside research and lectures by persons of industry, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, college and high school faculties, and the military. The Annual Math Contest is handled by the Math Club.

The HONORARY SCIENCE CLUB promotes scientific interests and opportunities among Ferguson students by offering them speakers, films, and field trips to further these interests. Qualifications for membership are a B average in science and an overall C average. Some of the interesting programs presented this year were speakers from NASA, Dow-Badische Chemical Company, and Bell Telephone Company; films from NASA; and field trips to Seashore State Park, Virginia Beach; Christopher Newport College science labs; Carolina Biological Supply Company, Burlington, North Carolina; and Robins Pharmaceutical Company, Richmond, Virginia. The Science Club's two big projects this year were the Annual Science Fair and aid to the Junior Nature Museum.

The FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA sponsored projects to better the community and school and to further their understanding of education. These projects included having distinguished speakers at the regularly scheduled meetings, sponsoring American Education Week at Ferguson, visiting colleges throughout Virginia, distributing toys at the Armory during Christmas, and student teaching in elementary schools in the spring. For the Future Teachers, this was an enriching experience.

The FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA met every third Thursday of the month. Two of their big projects for the year were serving refreshments for the Central District Wrestling Tournament held at Ferguson and helping the patients at Patrick Henry Hospital.

The FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA began regularly scheduled activities at the beginning of the second semester. They sold candy to make money for a long-range planned trip to Richmond, Virginia. This trip is to be made next year. These girls were sponsored by Mrs. McClennen, a woman not affiliated with Ferguson High School. Mrs. McClennen was once a registered nurse.

The active FHA held informal meetings every third Thursday of the month. Members helped patients at Patrick Henry Hospital.

Students are trained for employment.

The 100 MILE CLUB is exactly what it says. It is an organization for boys who have successfully run one hundred miles. Most of these boys are members of the track team and are interested in running.

The GYMNASTICS CLUB brought many honors to Ferguson High School throughout the year. On March 17 and 18, the five members of the Gymnastics Team went to Arlington, Virginia, to participate in the State Gymnastics Meet. These girls were Midge Smith, Debbie Forehand, Robin Shakshober, Madelyn Miller, and Julie Bryant. All of the girls placed in the top ten in the state.

VOCATIONAL OFFICE TRAINING trains its members in the fundamentals of office procedures. The members become skilled in the operation of office machines, filing, and clerical work. Meetings are held during class time.

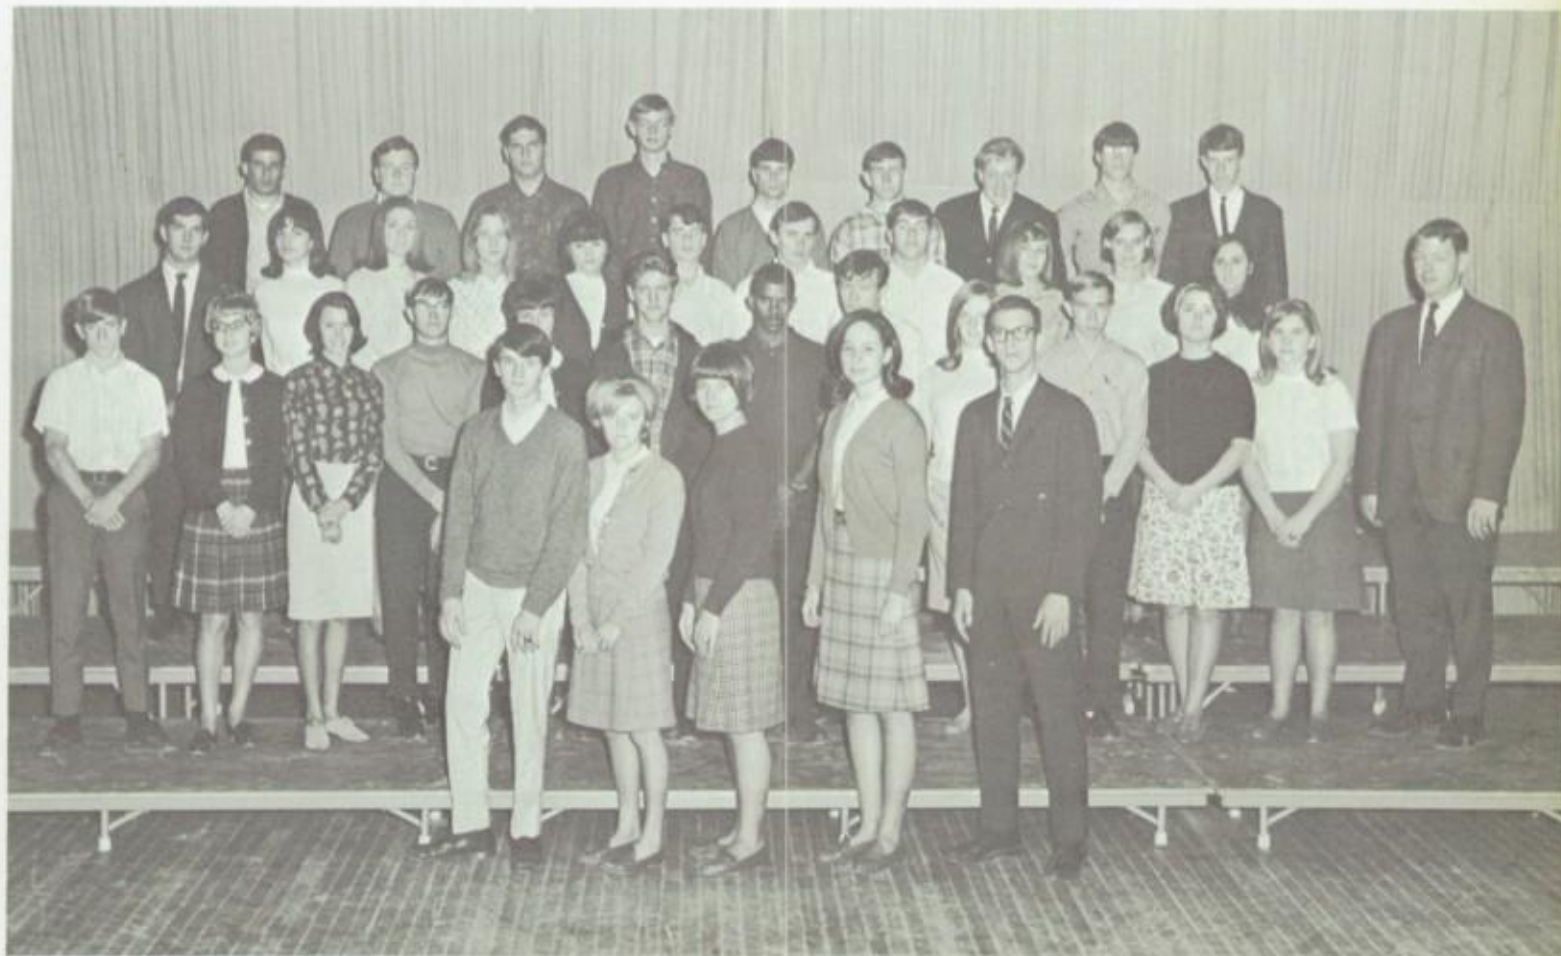

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION presents the students with opportunities for good jobs. The goal of the Distributive Education program is to better prepare a person for a distributive job. Some examples of such jobs are banking, retail buying, real estate, insurance, interior decorating, or advertising.

LIBRARY SCIENCE was offered this year as an accredited course to students. Along with library duties, the students were expected to read and report on books, complete homework assignments, and be tested on studied material.

GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS were students who volunteered to work in the Guidance Office. Some of their duties were to run errands, type, and deliver appointment slips.

A desire to debate and to learn proper debate techniques attract members to the DEBATE TEAM. They work toward a good representation of Ferguson in competition with other schools. The events in which the Debate Team participated this year were the Invitational Debate Tournament at Ferguson, the Padden Memorial Debate Tournament at Woodrow Wilson High School, the University of Richmond Tournament and the District Debate Tournament.

The members of the FORENSIC CLUB are students who have an interest in the areas of public speaking, prose reading, poetry reading, or spelling. Participation in forensic competition develops within the students a confidence and ability to speak well in public. The club spends the year practicing for the District Forensics Tournament.

The Ferguson MARINER BAND was one of the most active parts of Ferguson life. Performing at both pep assemblies and football games, it boosted school spirit and team morale. The band had many activities besides these, both in and out of school. A number of concerts, including the Christmas, Spring, and Midwinter concerts, along with the Jazz Festival, were given, and all proved very successful.

The Mariner Band's newly formed color guard was able to perform for the first time this year. It participated in all marching band activities. In the Fireman's Day Parade, Armed Forces Day Parade, and National Safety Week Parade, the American and state flags waved proudly from this newly added section of the band.

New equipment for the band department has recently been added. A complete stereophonic sound system which was placed in the band rehearsal room, allows the recording to be tuned to the individual who is performing with it. An electronic tuning device was also bought and is used to help give students visual pictures of tone, quality, pitch, and intonation.

The MARINER BAND COUNCIL members are chosen by the Mariner Band members. The council is composed of the band officers and class representatives. It works to unite the band and coordinate the band's many activities.

The REGIONAL BAND members worked hard to improve their skills at a weekend workshop held at Denbeigh High School. After two days of practice the Regional Band performed in a concert given to the community. The members, chosen through try-outs, represented the best of Ferguson's Mariner Band.

Two other Ferguson students, Jack Gaughan, and Bob Sher, were honored for their instrumental achievements. Both Mariner Band members placed in the ALL VIRGINIA BAND, which was held at Falls Church High School in the spring.

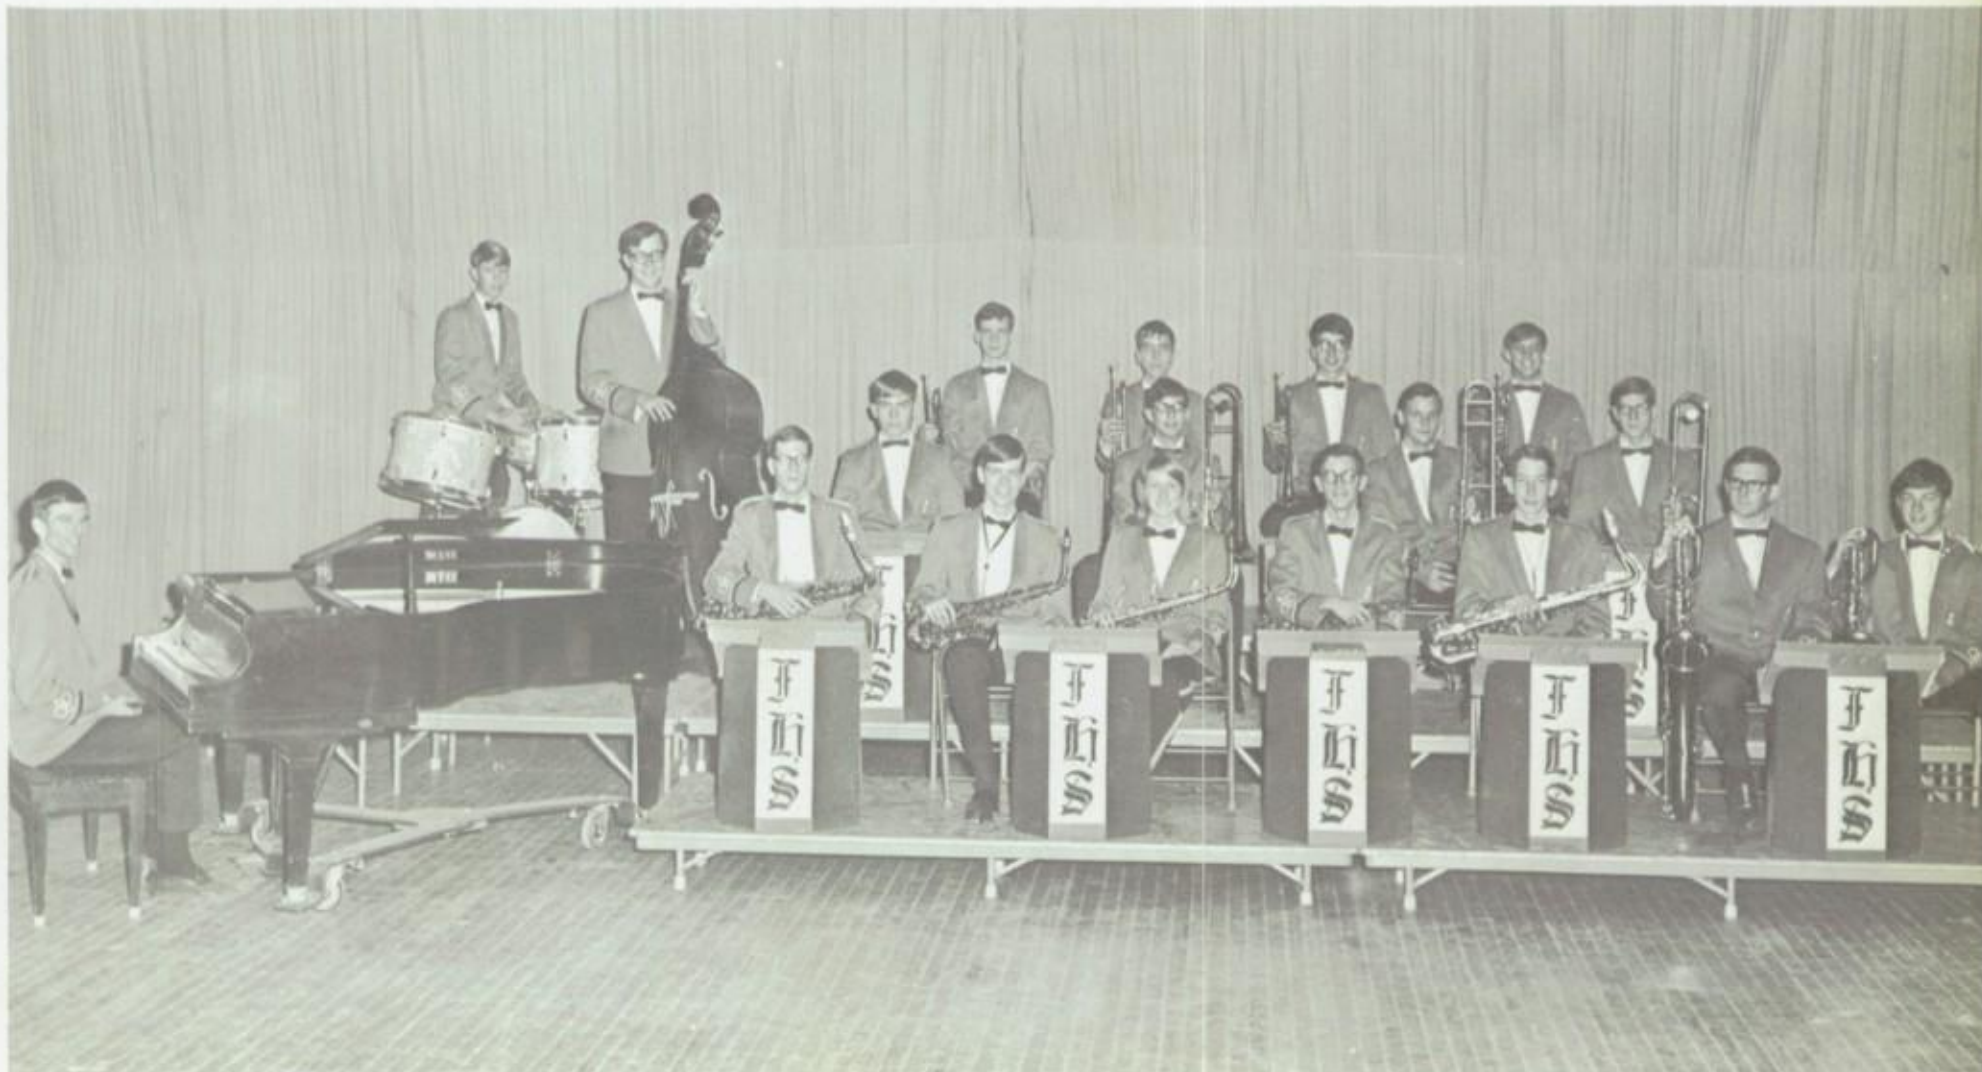

The VARSITY MAJORETTES were present at all marching band activities. Their flashing batons and colorful routines were the highlight of pep assemblies, home football game half-times, and various parades in which the Mariner Marching Band participated. For the first time this year a new routine using flags inscribed the Ferguson insignia was presented at the homecoming game.

Any interested band member may become a STAGE BAND member. This group participated in the Miss Mariner Pageant and the Jazz Festival. Outside of school activities, they performed in the Peninsula Art Festival.

During home football games, Ferguson's "Fight Song", played by the Mariner Band, could be heard above the roar of the crowd.

The CADET BAND is the basis for those musicians planning to develop their musical education in the Mariner Band. The main interest is in the development of the character and ability of the participants. The band participates annually in the Fireman's Parade, the Columbus Day Parade, football games, pep assemblies, the Music Festival and the Regional Band activities. The combined bands also gave a half-time performance at the Homecoming game. The Cadet Band was honored with a first place in the Columbus Day Parade and was awarded second place and a cash prize in the annual Christmas Parade. Each member of the Cadet Band strives to become a part of the Mariner Band and all efforts made in the Cadet Band are toward this goal.

The J.V. MAJORETTES performed in pep assemblies and parades in which the Cadet Band was active, such as the Varsity Majorettes performed with the Mariner Band. Besides performing with the band, the majorettes aided the Varsity Majorettes with their routines during football games.

Susan Smith led the WINDJAMMER STAFF through an eventful and successful year. The WINDJAMMER, Ferguson's weekly newspaper, kept Ferguson students informed of all school activities. The WINDJAMMER'S four pages provided excellent coverage of school productions, sports events, and assemblies. Articles written on individual students' accomplishments, fashions, colleges, and music, and editorials concerning school and community problems were also of interest to the students. The WINDJAMMER Staff sent delegates to the Southern Interscholastic Press Association and other staff members attended a clinic at the Richmond Professional Institute.

Short stories, poems, essays and critical works printed in the HELM represent writing talents of the student body. For the first time, the HELM, Ferguson's literary magazine, was published by a selected HELM STAFF, which met after school throughout the school year. The staff judged and selected the best literature to compose the magazine. The HELM is published each spring and sold to interested students.

This year the Mariners began their season at the top of the ladder with a victory over Meadowbrook. This victory proved to be a pleasant surprise and was hoped to be the sign of victories to come. However, the next two games crushed the victory thoughts from many Mariner fans by shoving Ferguson from its victory perch with two losses: the first to Hampton in an unquestionable defeat of 28-0, and the second to Patrick Henry by a one touchdown margin. Still, the mighty Mariners were not to be kept down long. In their next three games, they scored consecutive wins by toppling York, Denbigh, and Kecoughtan. For the second time that season, the Mariners began the long climb to the top. But their success and winning streak were short lived. During the remainder of the season, the Mariners were unable to rally their forces and ended the year with a 4-6 record.

This year under the leadership of Dick Tyson, the Mariners displayed team spirit and effort that enabled them to complete their season with a 8-10 record. Although they did not have a winning season, the Mariners were able to produce for the second year running, the district's leading scorer, Lee Laughlin. The Mariners were also able to beat Kecoughtan, thus breaking the jinx that had previously surrounded them. They accomplished this by twice trouncing the Warriors during the season's play and once in the semi-final tournament action. However, the Mariners were unable to compete in the finals, and there their season ended.

During the season both the Junior Varsity and the Eighth and Ninth Grade teams performed new feats by beating two schools that had previously formed barriers for the Mariners. The Junior Varsity soared to new fame when they trounced the Warwick Farmers in a touch-and-go game. The Eighth and Ninth Grade Team also performed admirably by stomping Newport News. They now hold the honor of being the only Eighth and Ninth grade team to do so.

Both teams worked well under the coaching of Mr. Penkunas and Mr. Keesecker, who were coaching basketball teams for the first time this year.

In previous years Ferguson High School has produced outstanding wrestling teams, but this year the Mariner wrestlers surpassed all of their earlier achievements. The team ended a victorious season with a total record of twelve wins, two losses, and no ties. In addition to providing this excellent record, the Mighty Mariner Mat Machine produced several individual champions. Oliver Carrithers emerged as the Central Regional District Champion for his weight class of 138 pounds. Mike Carrithers placed third in the state meet for 95 pounders. Another wrestler, Mark Chiesa placed second in the Eastern Regional Meet.

Success is great especially when it comes in the form of a district championship. Our Mariner Tennis Team experienced such a success this season as they won the district championship. Under the guiding eye and hand of Mr. Thomas Prunty, the team romped to finish their season with a 13-2 record. The two matches which tallied the only losses for the Ferguson netters were to Suffolk and Norfolk Academy. With a fine record behind them, the netters entered the Eastern District Tournament with much confidence backed by ability. Two players which did provide the team with leadership and ability were Walker Shivar and Gene Tingle. Walker Shivar was able, for the second season running, to maintain his record for an undefeated season of play. Gene Tingle, a newcomer to the Mariner tennis team, also posted a fine record of play. Mr. Prunty expressed regret at losing some members of his squad and admitted that the loss would be felt. However, he added that he holds high hopes for developing the talents and abilities of the other members of his squad for next season.

Nedra Distel evades an attacking opponent while fellow Mariners Charlene Phillips and Carol Sanders hustle to assist in gaining an advantage.

Even through the dust, Mariners Carol West and Debbie Hash battle determinedly for possession of the ball.

The Ferguson Girls' Hockey Team enjoyed an exceptionally good season with a record of three wins and one loss. The wins included victories over Warwick, Newport News, and Denbigh. The one loss was against Hampton Roads Academy, but this was only after a long, close struggle between the two teams.

Victory was the key word for the Ferguson Girls' Basketball Team. During their season, they successfully defeated all of their opponents not once, but twice. Coaching the team for the first time was Miss Judy Wilson.

For Ferguson girls sports

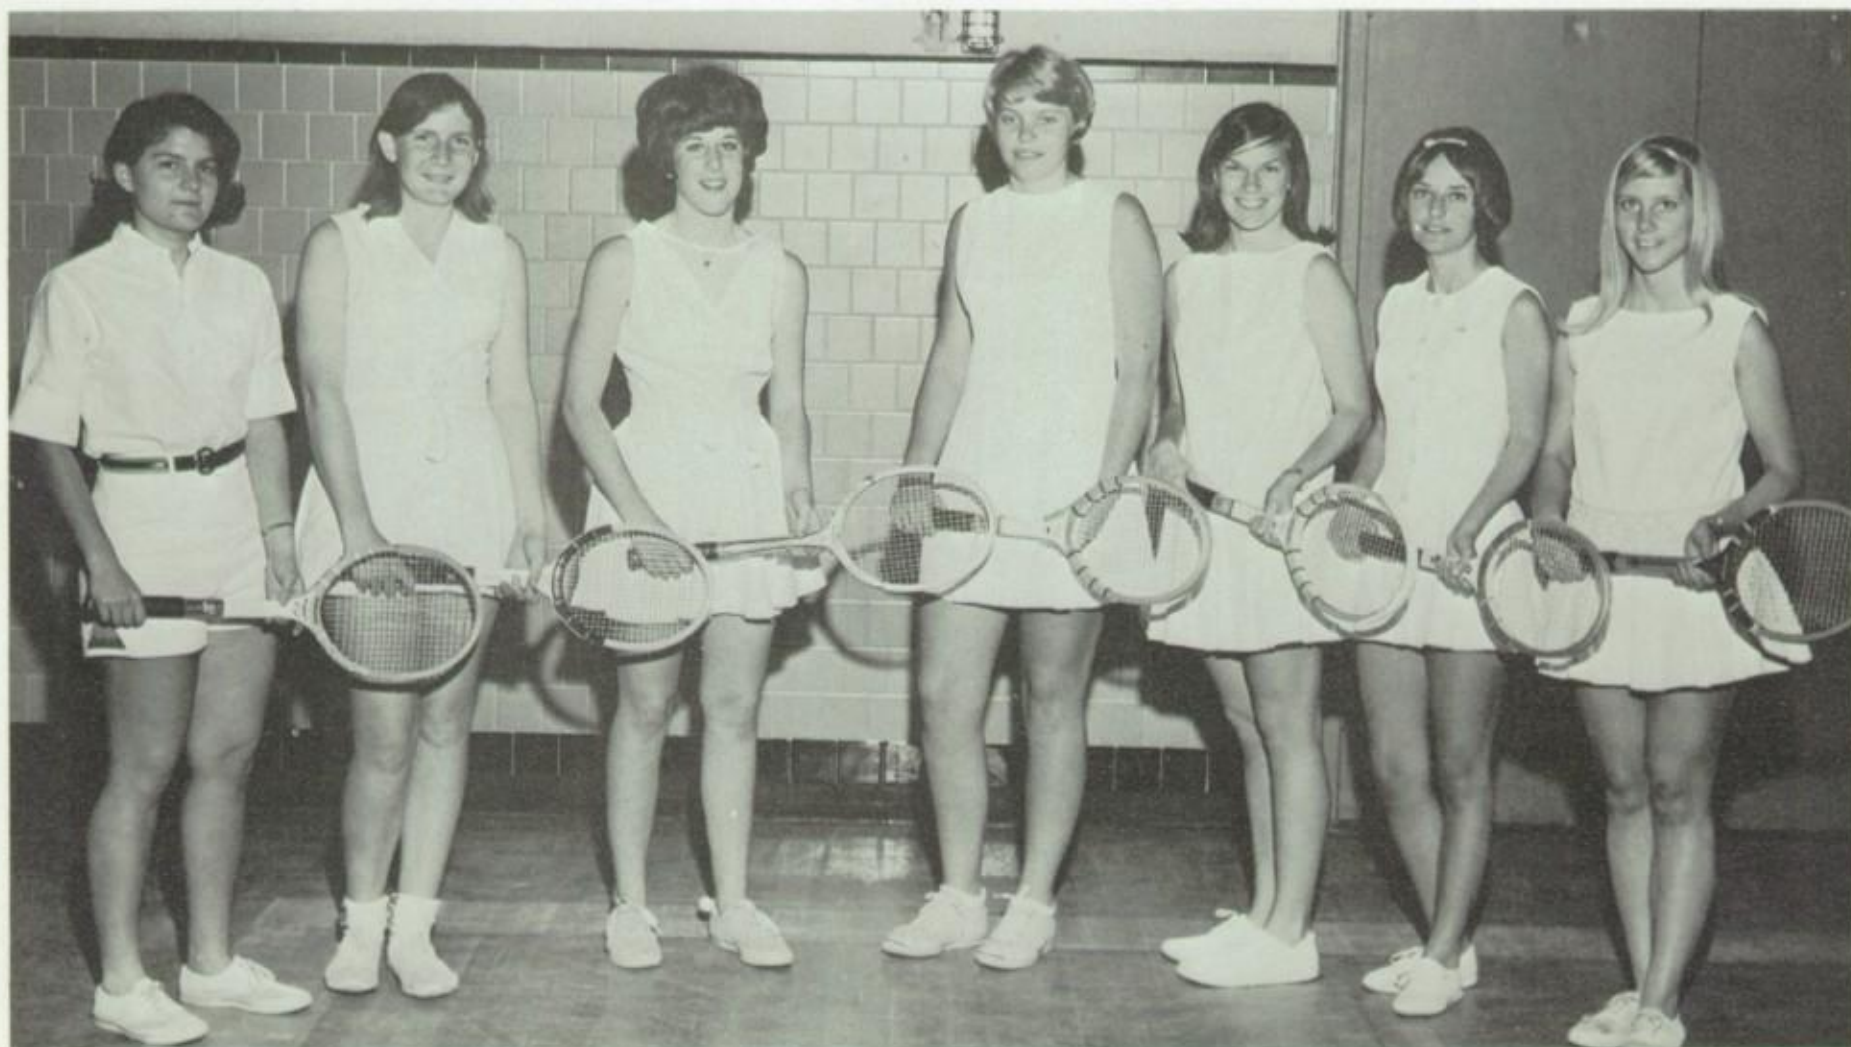

The members of the GRA Executive Council were (FRONT ROW) Marion McInnis, Carolyn Cocke, Linda Knemeyer, Mrs. Sanders, advisor; (BACK ROW) Margaret Smith, Jo Scher, Lou Ann Davis, Marcia Farrar, and Anne Cowardin.

Under the direction of president Linda Knemeyer and advisor Mrs. Ruth Sanders, the GRA Executive Council and the organization itself functioned exceedingly well. The Girls' Recreation Association is responsible for planning, organizing, and carrying out all girls' sports. It provides all Ferguson girls with a variety of sports ranging from hockey to basketball to gymnastics to tennis to volleyball and many others. The girls never lack for something to do.

One of the spring sports sponsored by the GRA was tennis. To the pleasure of its advisor Mrs. Ruth Sanders the Girls' Tennis Team completed its season with a 3-2 record. The losses were to James Blair, although the match was actually a tie, and to Suffolk, whose tennis team hosted several of the state's tennis champions. However, the Mariner girls did not accept the setbacks. They rallied to defeat Suffolk in a second bout and to continue by defeating Hampton Roads twice and going on to the state tournament.

Thus, the Girls' Recreation Association has continued to offer to Ferguson girls a wide scope of sports. In return through GRA, the girls have strengthened their skills, increased their loyalty to the school, and heightened the prestige of Ferguson.

Members of the Tennis Squad included Ellyn Soefer, Anne Greenbaum, Anne Cowardin, Marion McInnis, Ginger Woodward, Candy Mahone, and Linda Rayfield.

Both the Varsity and J.V. Cheerleaders strive together in a cooperative effort to achieve a single goal -- more school spirit. The J.V. pepsters certainly did their share. "Go, team--like crazy!" Whether it be at a pep rally, a close football game, or a spirited basketball game, Mariner partisan rooters will always see their faithful pepsters scurrying about hanging victory posters, congratulating their team on a victory, and most important, cheering their team onto that victory. As Ferguson's voice of enthusiasm, the cheerleaders can often be heard praying to the Mighty Mariner or leading their student body in a rousing cheer. Even in the face of defeat, the cheerleaders always stand for the good sportsmanship becoming to a Mariner. To the Varsity Cheerleaders we thank you for your example and your spirit.

WILLIAM KEITH EVERETT, JR.

Versatility characterizes Keith's activities at Ferguson High School. He served his class as president during his junior and senior years. Recognition of Keith's abilities, as well as scholarship, character, and services, merited him membership in the National Honor Society. He also found time to participate in track activities.

MARY ELIZABETH HATTEN

Mary Beth's long list of accomplishments for the past five years qualifies her as one of Ferguson's outstanding seniors. Time and again she brought honor to herself and her school for her science projects throughout her high school career. Her science awards, as well as numerous other honors, made her an outstanding member of Ferguson's Hall of Fame.

MICHAEL GEORGE HENTGES

Michael will be remembered for so many reasons--his enviable number one position in his class, president of the Key Club, and member of the track team. Mike will also be remembered for his beautiful and sensitive poetry . . .

"I know friend of mine is friend a poem solves all."

LINDA JANE KNEMEYER

Captain of the cheerleaders, accomplished musician, and a top ten scholar--all of these contributed to Linda's title of Best-All-Around. Linda is also a charter member of the Keyettes and has sung with the A Cappella Choir. As a two year participant, Linda was named first runner-up in the 1967 Miss Mariner Contest.

WILLIAM GERALD NEW

National Merit Scholar, student body president, and Key Club member represent the list of numerous activities in which Bill has been a part. A real leader, Bill has had a successful year in directing the SCA program. Warm, friendly, and personable, Bill has endeared himself to both teachers and classmates.

SUSAN ELAINE SMITH

Vivacious, efficient, conscientious, highly respected--these are the qualities that characterize Susan Smith. Outstanding senior, editor of the Windjammer, and class officer all are a part of Susan's life at Ferguson. She also lists among her accomplishments membership in the Keyettes, National Honor Society, and French Club.

Vallée D'Amour.

Mary Fran Briggs and Bruce Wright pause on the bridge to be welcomed to Vallee D'Amour.

On Saturday May 27 the Seniors enjoyed their Prom which they had for months so enthusiastically prepared for. The theme, Vallee D'Amour, remained a secret until the Seniors looked over the mountain into a beautifully decorated cafeteria.

Martha Kane and John Cutler take the throne after being crowned Prom Queen and King. The Queen and King were selected by their class.

After decorating and hanging the mural, Juniors sweep the floor as a last minute preparation before the doors are open to the Seniors.

Mrs. Passage presents Gary Nachman with his diploma.

Valedictorian Michael Hentges listens attentively to Betty Jaegar deliver her salutatory oration as he waits to give his address to the parents and Senior Class.

ELECTRICITY: MUSCLE OF INDUSTRY

Behind the great industrial might of America stands a "giant workman" — electric energy. It would require the muscle energy of 70 men working 40 hours a week for one whole year to equal 10,000 kilowatt hours of electricity — less than the average annual consumption of two Vepco residential customers. Yes, electricity is the "muscle" behind our power and prosperity.

GOOD SHIPS START HERE

Fine ships don't roll off a production line. They're built efficiently and well only by men whose skills and knowledge are broad. That's why Newport News begins at the beginning with its own selective Apprentice School.

High School graduates enter on the basis of academic record. But selectivity doesn't stop there. In classroom and shop, in the drafting room and out in the yard, each man's special abilities are watched and developed.

Some become skilled and versatile machinists. Others become expert electricians or precision tool makers. Many become supervisors. Some earn scholarships for advanced training at colleges and technical schools.

We think the School's a pretty inspiring place, because its end results are good men and good ships.

Claudia,
It's been great with you in club.
We've had such a good time at the beach just goofing off. Never forgot patch at Billy's beach and the many met. This and different faces we've met. This weekend has the potentialities of being a great time and I hope you have a wonderful time. Go. Alpha Omega!

Jay

Claudia,
It's been great knowing you this past year. Good luck this year and in our senior year. Keep your same sweet smile and remember gym.

Always

Pattie

Love

Clayton

Remember all the "good" times in Omega. I want to wish you the best of luck in the future at P.P.S.

Claudia
 Don't even know me — — so. Not only that you make absolutely No attempt to gain our love in. Next year - you better hang - get it.
 Big! Up tight! You have to swing! You get what + take baby.... so love me. Be good and love.... Your affectionate Friend,
 Mozilla Garulla

It was a wild weekend so let's not forget it.

It's really been great knowing you all these years, and seeing behind you in math. I'll never forget the groovy times we had. See you in college and, as usual, good luck

Mucho amor,
 Paul

Claudia,
 I will always remember you in our swingin' you in a sweet girl and know you will be very successful,
 Friend always
 Jan

Claudia,

Have fun with Rip.

Whatever happened to the pool? --

I never saw ya' there. Stay cool.

You're a cute and sweet girl. Love ya'

Pam

Claudia,
you're really a very cute girl. We're going to have to live up
History class this year because I think it's going to be pretty dull. Please be good this year & have fun.
Best wishes as a Junior,
Janie

Claude,
I think you have the best corny jokes around and I know the ~~oo~~ bedroom at Va. Beach would have dull without your
"afterward blues".
Best of luck,
Jail D

Claudia,

Hope the rest of your years
at Ferguson are full of luck. Remember good ol' Bernie Freeman and his froggy friends.
Stay as sweet as you always have been and you'll have great success.

Hi Sweetie

To a real just sweet pretty lovely girl, who I think and lovely and understanding is a very nice and understanding young woman. All I can say is I've had the pleasure of being your friend.
I believe I know you in the 4th grade but I'm not sure, anyway I'll never forget you. Say hi to Nancy & Pam.

and I was just kidding about the 'big feet' notion. Love you Always

Shirley Spauld

P.S. Remember the Green man and the Hall when I have dedicated this page. Green.

BYE

CLAUDIA,
It's been great knowing you the past year and I hope our friendship last a long time. May luck follow you wherever you go.

Richard Hall

Hey Claudia,
and we'll be a great and a great guy. Let me know if you can be my friend in every
way. Love you lots,
Shirley
